International Erosion Control Association

Who Is IECA?

The International Erosion Control Association is a non-profit, member organization that provides education, resource information and business opportunities for professionals in the erosion and sediment control industry.

The association's 3000+ members represent 52 countries and 17 fields of professional practice. IECA's diverse membership supplies a unique network of specialists who are capable of solving a broad range of problems caused by soil and erosion and its by-product ~ sediment.

The Goals of the IECA are:

- To educate IECA members, the public & the erosion control industry.
- To disseminate information through conferences, seminars & communication media.
- To provide technical expertise for people, organizations & governments seeking assistance in the field of erosion control & soil conservation.
- To establish standards for erosion control materials & installation procedures.
- To promote the expertise of erosion & sediment control specialists through professional certification.

"IECA is dedicated to minimizing accelerated soil erosion"

Who is MAC/IECA?

Our goal is to provide educational opportunities to better prepare members to address the multitude of environmental issues unique to the Mid-Atlantic region; to establish an informational network within the region in disciplines such as erosion and sediment control, storm-water management, wetland mitigation and stream stabilization; to tap the wealth of knowledge and the resources available in the Mid-Atlantic region and to share experiences and successes with others throughout the world through the IECA and the Mid-Atlantic Chapter of the IECA.

If you're interested in becoming a part of this exciting venture please complete the IECA membership application and mail or complete the process online at www.macieca.com.
